

Henrik Ibsen's

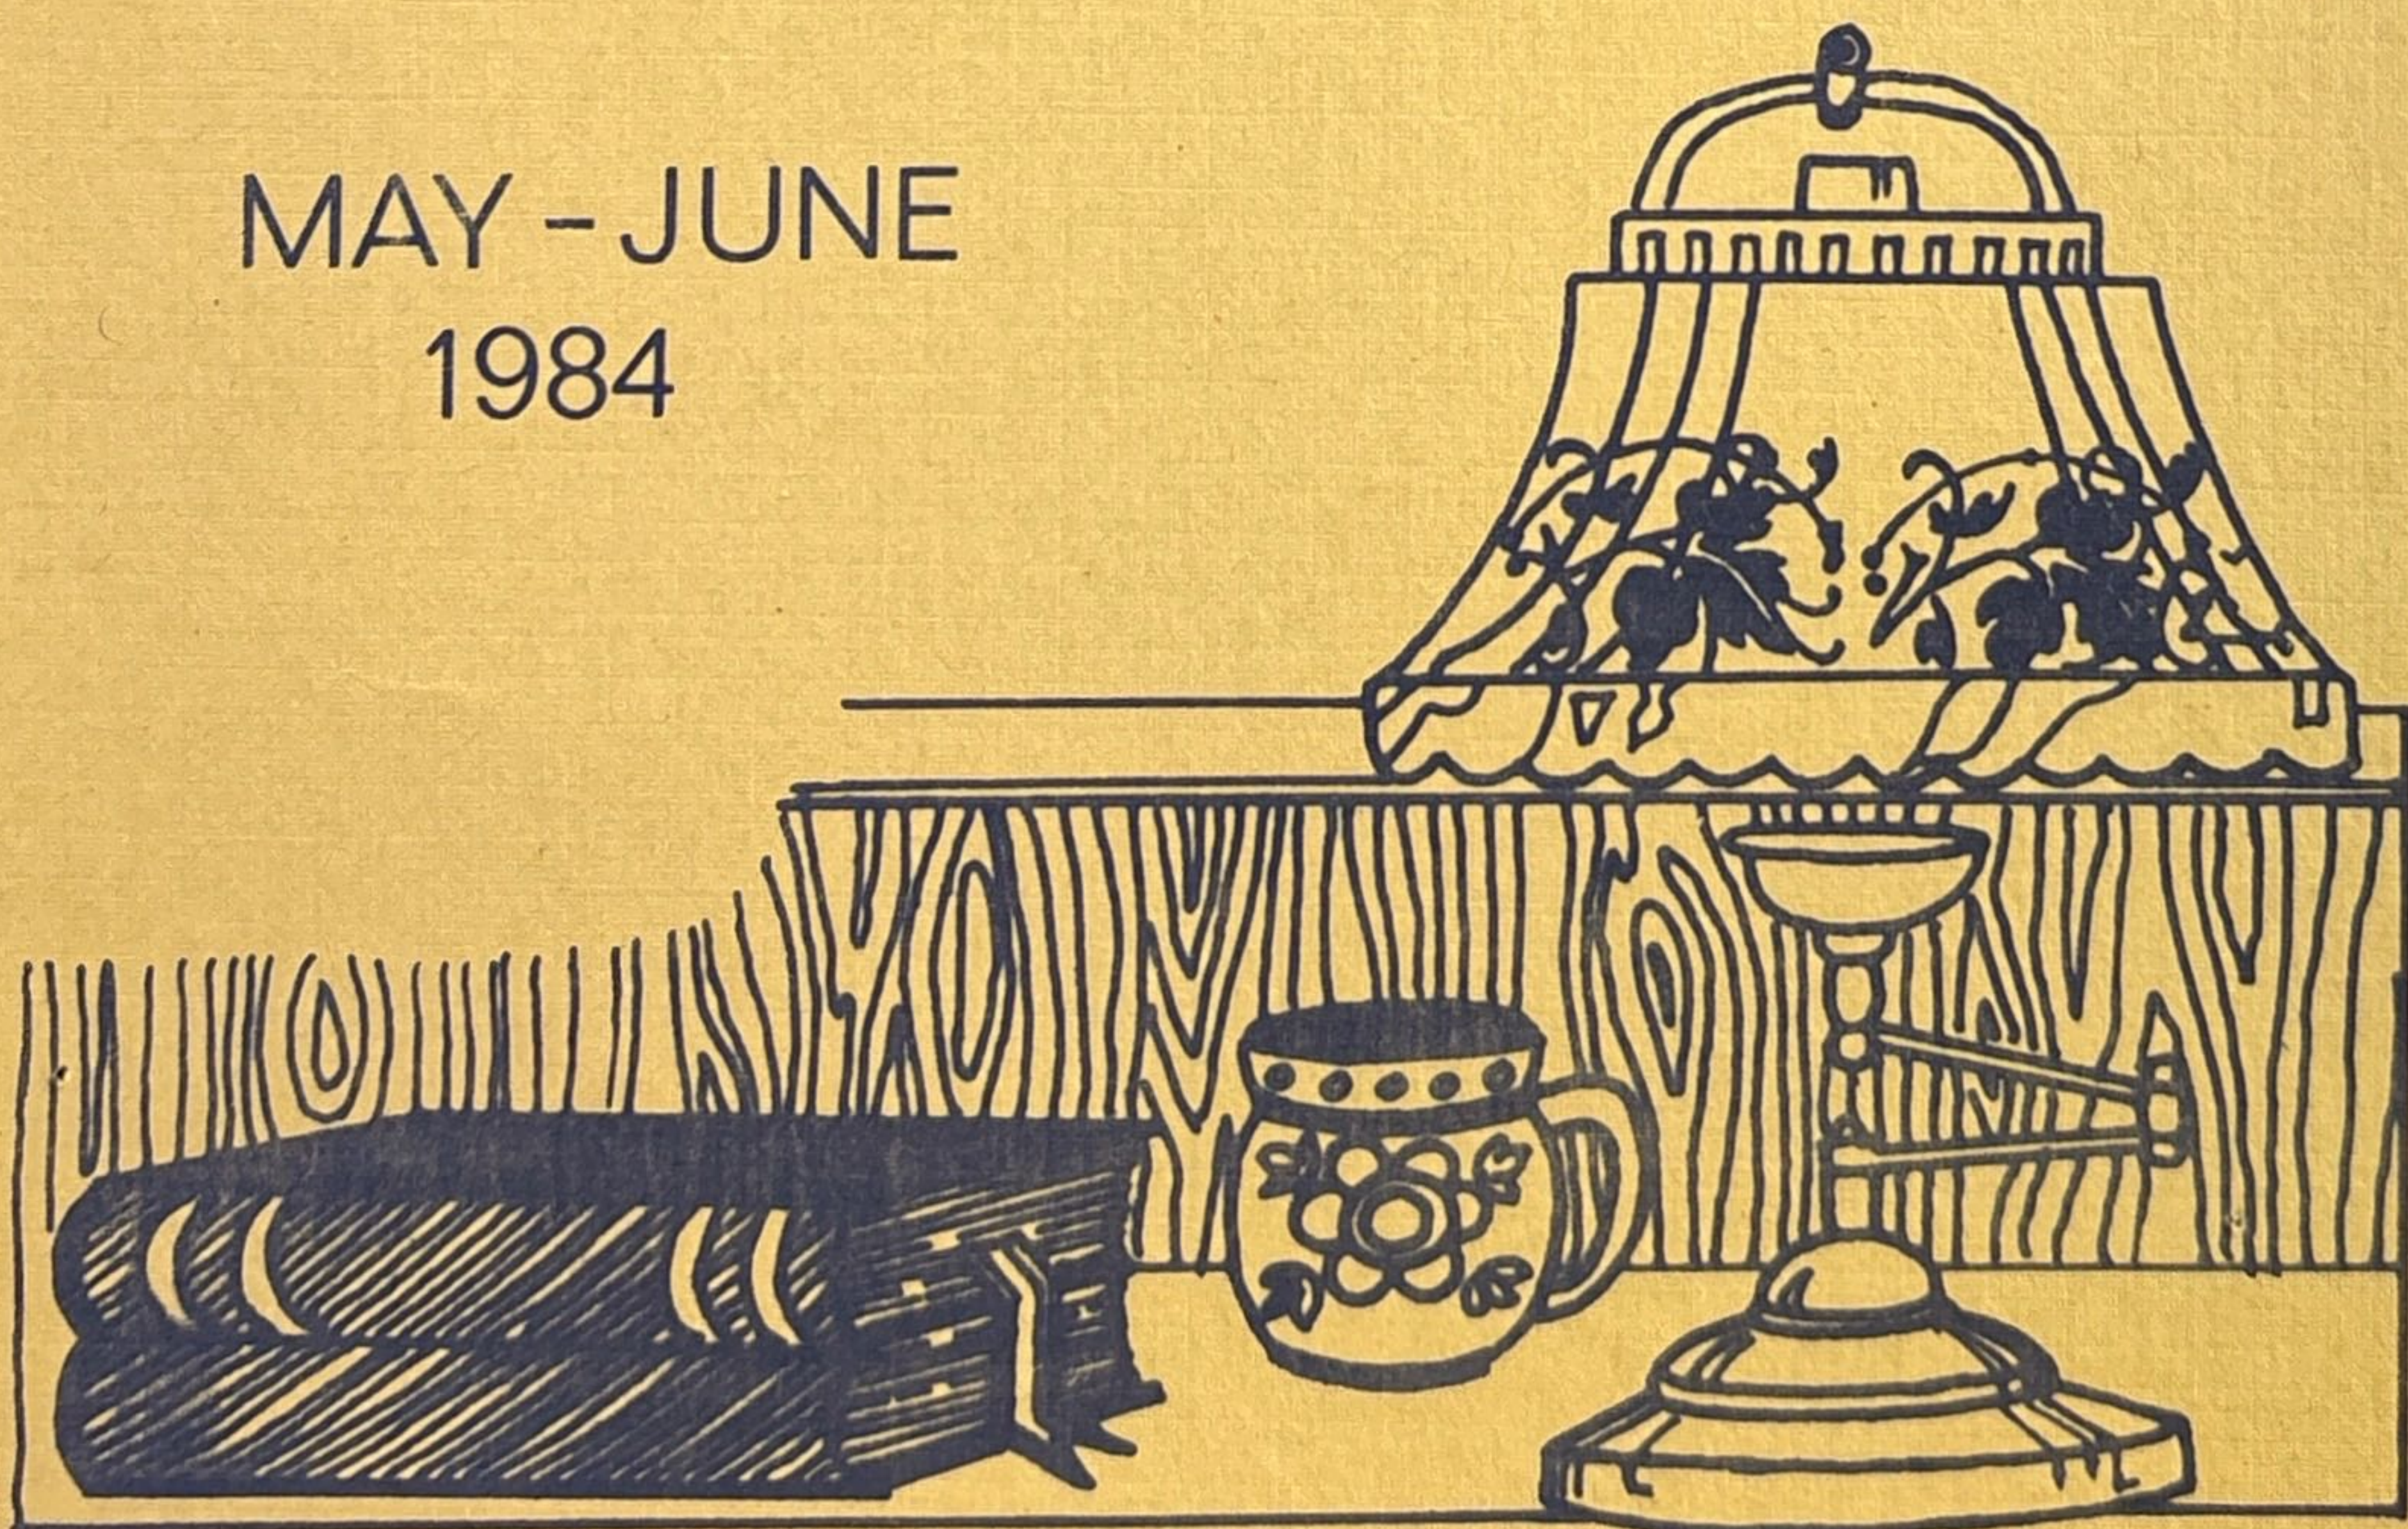

A DOLL'S HOUSE

performed by
The Malvern Theatre Company

adapted by Ray Lawler

Directed by Julian Couzins

MAY - JUNE
1984

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR :

The production of "A Doll's House" marks the return of Julian to directing, after his work on "Departmental" in 1982.

A Malvern member for some years Julian also treads the boards, most recently appearing in "Kean" with the Heidelberg Theatre Company.

ABOUT THE PLAY:

Ibsen's sense of the dramatic is nowhere better seen than in "A Doll's House". The intensity of the action, the beautifully controlled changes of mood and the finely drawn characters combine to create a theatrical entertainment of unsurpassed style.

Malvern is delighted to present Ibsen's "A Doll's House" for the enjoyment of our patrons.

ABOUT THE CAST:

LOUISE WHITEMAN: Louise appeared last year at Malvern in "How The Other Half Loves" and earlier in "The Bride and the Bachelor". Louise has also played in "The Exorcism" and "Knock Knock" for Heidelberg, in "Separate Tables" at Pumpkin and "In For The Kill" at Williamstown.

BILL MARTIN: Bill has been acting around the traps for the last twenty years. He was last seen at Malvern in "Beggars Opera".

LOUISE LUCCARINI: Earlier appearances at Malvern include "A Toast to Melba" and "Rollo". She has played in "Separate Tables" at Pumpkin and "Under Milk Wood" and "Hedda Gabler" at Heidelberg.

DAVID JAMES: David has appeared in many Malvern productions over the years, such as "An Inspector Calls", "Crown Matrimonial", "She Stoops to Conquer" to name a few. More recently David appeared in "The Dancing Years" with Heritage and in a Theatre Arts Production "Dangerous Corner".

PETER MENDOSA: Peter makes a second welcome appearance at Malvern after his performance in "Man For All Seasons" last year.

NORAH TOOHEY: A penchant for period plays has given Norah the opportunity to perform in many such company productions, the last being "Man for All Seasons". This is her first 'bustle' play!

WILMA AVERY: Wilma has played many roles with Malvern and is a very experienced performer therefore it was pleasing she agreed late in rehearsals to fill the role of Ellen.

OUR NEXT ATTRACTION :

"A TOMB WITH A VIEW"

By Norman Robbins

The author has packed his ingenious plot with all the red herrings and shocks of the genre - along with zany characters and uproarious comedy situations. "A Tomb With a View" will provide patrons with a delightful, intriguing night of theatre with one of its most popular forms - the comedy - thriller.
